Department of Women’s and Gender Studies

Recruitment of Teaching Assistants for WGST 101: Introduction to Women’s and Gender Studies for 2022/2023

The Department of WGST invites applications from graduate students interested in working with us in the capacity of a TA in a large lecture class in the Fall 2022 and Spring 2023 semesters. Each Teaching Assistant teaches approximately 60 students (2 sections of 30, depending on enrollments) in weekly discussion sections, working closely with the lead instructor of the class. The current TA stipend is $8,500/semester. WGST 101 is a diverse and challenging class with issues that may evoke strong reactions among students, therefore teaching assistants with previous teaching experience are particularly encouraged to apply. The student’s home department needs to cover the tuition waiver; students cover their health insurance and any additional fees, if applicable.

To apply, please submit a CV, a letter of interest and 1 letter of support from a faculty member who can comment on your teaching experience and progress towards degree. Students who have prior Teaching Assistant experience in WGST 101 do not need a letter of support.
